"Art of Ability" Show at Mt SAC Gallery

Presented by Mt. San Jacinto Community College at Mt. San Jacinto College's Fine Art Gallery

October 4-October 21, 2010

In recognition of Disabilities Awareness Month, the MSJC Art Gallery will display artwork made by students who are affiliated with the college's DSP&S (Disabled Students Program and Services) program. DSP&S provides assistance and educational accommodations for those with physical and learning disabilities.

In addition to celebrating the creative accomplishments of this group of individuals, "Art of Ability" is also intended to undermine common stereotypes about disability. Disability tends to be located within the context of limitation and restriction and is often used to define someone by what they can't do. By dismissing such associations, this exhibit encourages the viewer to look past the label of disability.

The exhibit will feature a wide range of contemporary art, in many different media, executed in a variety of styles. The diversity of the exhibit reflects the diversity of the participants. It acknowledges that despite our tendency to label one another, we are all individuals who should be appreciated for our own unique set of talents, abilities, and modes of self-expression.
